A YEAR OF GROWTH & IMPACT

Dear Supporters and Friends of CRC,

Thanks to your financial investment, volunteer support, and the commitment of our dedicated staff and Board of Directors, in Fiscal Year 2015 - 2016, CRC was able to help thousands of families, children and individuals in need. We provided over 670,000 pounds of food through more than 11,700 visits to our Food & Nutrition Center. Over 120 households found the support they needed through our domestic violence emergency shelter and programs, and 98% of participants did not return to their abusive situation. We hope you will read through some important highlights in this report, and know that your support makes it all possible.

We have heard countless stories of lives changed. Brenda was starving and able to survive after obtaining healthy food in our Food Distribution Center. Susan was so grateful for the counseling and support she found here that she is now a weekly volunteer in our food distribution center. The families and individuals living in our domestic violence shelter found the critical support they needed to not just survive, but thrive through supportive programs like counseling and the Therapeutic Children’s Center. Those with nowhere else to turn received the support and tools they needed to measurably improve their lives.

One in every eight people living in North San Diego County lived in poverty in 2015 (according to the Center on Policy Initiatives). Domestic violence, hunger and homelessness are real issues. CRC is a key organization addressing these issues in our community by helping people meet their most critical and basic needs— housing, safety, food—and empower them with the tools they need to succeed.

Together, we are truly making a difference!

ABOUT COMMUNITY RESOURCE CENTER

Our Mission
Creating paths to safety, stability and self-sufficiency.

Our Purpose
Community Resource Center (CRC) is a nonprofit organization that works to end hunger, homelessness and domestic violence in North County San Diego.

As a provider of integrative services, CRC’s programs include a domestic violence emergency shelter and transitional housing, legal clinics and advocacy, hotline, community and school DV education and prevention, outreach, a Therapeutic Children’s Center, professional counseling, Food & Nutrition Center, homelessness prevention and rental and housing assistance. All of CRC’s programs are designed to assist participants to successfully navigate their paths of safety, stability and self-sufficiency.

Our History
For more than 35 years, CRC has been an anchor in the community. After seeing so many in need, a group of community and business leaders came together to form an organization addressing the homelessness and food insecurity in the community, forming Community Resource Center (CRC).

Established in 1979, CRC has grown from providing basic needs for families in crisis, to offering extensive programs that facilitate the safety, stability, and self-sufficiency of low-income and episodically homeless households, including victims of domestic violence.

This Annual Report covers the Fiscal Year period of July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2016.
Everyone has a safe place to call home.

Jane and her daughters arrived to safety at CRC’s emergency shelter after fleeing her violent husband. Guided by her CRC counselor, Jane progressed into transitional housing and found a job. Now…they are not only self-sufficient, Jane and her girls are thriving, living well-balanced lives filled with safety and love.

Everyone has the chance to thrive.

“The support and services I’ve received from CRC have been my guide in helping me and my family reach our light.”
- Candace, CRC Participant

Our caring counselors provided individual, couples and family therapy and gave participants the tools and resources needed to move forward and improve their lives.

Everyone has enough food.

“My CRC case manager has kindly and compassionately helped me to meet my urgent needs for food, health care and low-income housing benefits.”
- Michael, CRC Participant

Our Food Distribution Center provided nutritious food to hundreds of people struggling to make ends meet.

WHO WE SERVE

About Our Participants

Our participants come to CRC from all areas; all walks of life; and all family compositions. The majority suffer from the debilitating effects of poverty, hunger, unemployment, illness, homelessness, and/or domestic violence.

Some will find us through a referral from another social service agency, another program participant, or a website search. Many first come through our doors for food and nutrition assistance; others, because they are homeless or are facing homelessness; and still others when they flee an abusive situation. There are also those who find us when touched by the outreach and generosity of our Holiday Baskets program, and choose to take advantage of our self-sufficiency programs. Regardless of the door our participants enter through, they are greeted with compassion, caring, and expertise.

Poverty in North County

One in every eight people in North County was living in poverty in 2015, or 12.1% of the population, equating to 103,202 people.

In 2015, a family of four was below the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) with an annual income below $24,036; an individual is below FPL with an annual income below $12,082. With the median cost of renting a 2-bedroom apartment in North County at $1,485 per month, or $17,820 per year, many North County families are struggling to make ends meet.

Note: The FPL is not adjusted for the high cost of living in San Diego County. Source: Center on Policy Initiatives, December 2016. Using data from the Census Bureau’s 2015 1-year American Community Survey (ACS).

Domestic Violence Program participants receive comprehensive supportive social services to facilitate the transition to healthier, happier, and safer lives. The ultimate goal is to provide the tools and opportunities needed to restart their lives and continue on a path of self-sufficiency.

Education & Prevention
CRC works to prevent domestic violence in the community through education and training to schools, groups, businesses, and individuals including: Understanding Domestic and Dating Violence, Domestic Violence (DV) in the Workplace and 40-Hour DV Training. In 2015 and 2016, CRC reached a record number of teens through a coordinated Teen Relationship Violence Awareness Campaign. In collaboration with the San Diego Chargers, CRC released a series of public service announcements educating youth on the signs and symptoms of teen relationship abuse. These ads aired in local television and movie theatres, reaching thousands of youth in the community. CRC also provided peer-to-peer education at local schools, reaching 620 students.

Emergency Hotline
Trained staff and volunteers, all of whom have taken CRC’s 40 hour Domestic Violence Crisis Intervention & Victim Advocacy Training, respond to calls on the hotline 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Those in need of assistance are able to see if there are openings in CRC’s Domestic Violence Program, or are referred to other domestic violence services and housing that are available in San Diego County.

Carol’s House - Emergency Shelter
Opened in 2004, Carol’s House is a 24-bed emergency shelter for all victims of domestic violence, providing a safe home to residents for 45 to 90 days. Carol’s House was made possible by Carol Cianfarani, who helped CRC develop a larger domestic violence shelter. With Carol’s vision and a collaboration of several community partners, over $150,000 was raised to help build Carol’s House within just 18 days. Carol’s House has a 98% success rate largely because of the critical wrap-around services available to residents, including counseling, case management, legal advocacy and other services. Carol’s House is a County Funded Program

Fiscal Year Impact:
1,940 Domestic violence hotline calls answered
60 households found shelter at Carol’s House
98% did not return to their abusers

Transitional Housing
Domestic Violence Program participants are provided transitional housing either onsite or offsite. Individuals and families are able to obtain housing assistance for 12 to 18 months, as they transition to permanent supportive housing.

Case Management
Program participants are able to work one-on-one with a case manager to set and work towards reaching self-set goals that will put them on the path to self-reliance, supporting and providing safety for themselves and their families.

Counseling
Child and adult domestic violence survivors who participate in CRC’s domestic violence programs are offered weekly one-hour individual counseling sessions, weekly group therapy sessions for mothers and for children, and family counseling.

Therapeutic Children’s Center
The Therapeutic Children’s Center (TCC) serves children under the age of 18 who live at Carol’s House, one of our Transitional Housing units, or whose families participate in our off-site Transitioning to Independence program. The TCC provides a safe, healthy environment for children recovering from the traumatic effects of domestic violence. Counseling and additional therapeutic activities specifically designed for our youngest clients promote age-appropriate childhood development, and help to break the generational cycle of violence.

Legal Advocacy
Free legal services for survivors of domestic violence are provided by our Legal Advocate, including: restraining orders, divorce, child custody/visitation, child & spousal support, immigration services, court accompaniment, safe at home enrollment, community education.
Case Management

Program participants are able to work one-on-one with a case manager to set and work towards reaching self-set goals that will put them on the path to self-reliance, supporting and providing safety for themselves and their families.

Health and Well-Being

CRC’s Food and Nutrition programming consists of multiple programs focused on ensuring that households experiencing food insecurity have access to nutritious emergency food resources, as well as on-going food assistance. CRC also partners with a number of local health focused agencies to provide screenings, health resources and wellness education in an effort to support participants’ overall wellness goals.

VITA Tax Program

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) allows CRC the ability to assist low-income families and individuals to receive free income tax preparation on-site. IRS-certified volunteers will prepare returns for qualified individuals.

CRC’s VITA program was successful in completing a total of 1,455 state and federal returns and returning $1,149,044 in total tax refunds to individuals in our community, during the 2015 tax season, including the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and Child Tax Credit (CTC).

Homelessness Prevention and Intervention

Participants may stay at Carol’s House if fleeing domestic violence, others may stay at another County shelter or have access to emergency bridge housing in the form of motel vouchers and the Interfaith Shelter Network, a rotational shelter that houses participants in a variety of churches throughout the San Diego North County Coastal area for which CRC provides shelter coordination and case management services. Individuals and families who are in danger of losing their housing may also have access to rental assistance and housing stability resources through CRC. Homeless individuals and families are provided with access to housing navigation assistance to connect them with the resources they need to secure permanent housing.

Encinitas Opening Doors Program

The Encinitas Opening Doors pilot program is a partnership with Interfaith Community Services that is funded by the City of Encinitas and works to end homelessness in Encinitas, with an emphasis on housing local veterans. Homeless individuals and families meet with CRC’s Housing Navigator for an assessment and placement in transitional or permanent housing, as well as connections to valuable resources. Since the program began in 2016, 25 individuals have found housing, including five veterans.

Stabilization Services

Participants have access to transportation and employment readiness resources and coaching as well as benefits enrollment assistance, financial literacy training and budgeting and money management education.

SUSAN’S STORY

Three years ago, I was at a physical, mental and spiritual low point in my life, after my marriage of 18 years ended and I lost my home. I isolated myself away from my friends and family and fell into drugs. Out of desperation, I entered a 30-day drug rehab program. After successfully completing the program and moving into a sober living home, I had a very hard time getting back on my feet. I didn’t know what to do next or who to turn to. I knew I needed help.

"With CRC’s help, I got back on my feet. My brain and body slowly healed and my spirit started to lift. I started to thrive as my new life expanded. I recently went back to school and just completed my master’s degree. And now, I joyfully give back to CRC by volunteering weekly at their Food Distribution Center."
CRC’s Food Distribution Center receives over 670,000 pounds of donated food during the year, mainly from local grocery stores. There were 11,774 individual visits to our Emergency Food distribution center during the year. In addition, those signed up for CRC services participate in our “Access to Healthy Food” program.

Our Food Distribution Center is unique among most other food banks in that we offer participants a dignified shopping experience. Participants may select their own food staples, along with fresh food products.

Weekly Food Assistance

Participants who are working with an Integrative Services Case Manager to develop and work towards a plan leading to self-reliance are eligible to receive weekly food assistance. Seniors and individuals who are unable to work because of a disability are able to utilize this resource, as well.

USDA Commodities Program: USDA food distributed daily; one monthly allotment per family, eligibility based on income.

Emergency Food distribution: Open to assist with short-term food relief for those who are not current enrolled as CRC program participants.

CalFresh (Food Stamp) and Medi-Cal Application Assistance

Through a partnership with San Diego Health and Human Services, participants are able to apply for CalFresh through video conferencing at Community Resource Center. This allows an eligible applicant to receive the same day certification for these benefits and avoid waiting in long lines in County offices.

Meal Preparation and Nutrition Classes

Program participants may sign up for meal preparation and cooking classes that are made available in conjunction with our program partners and staff.

Holiday Baskets

The annual Holiday Baskets program provides staple foods and other household essentials to help families and individuals have a brighter holiday.

Volunteers & donations make it all possible!

CRC’s Food Distribution Center is entirely run by committed volunteers each and every day. The donations we receive from local community groups and grocery stores make it possible to offer this life-saving resource that makes all the difference for families and individuals in need of food.

HOLIDAY BASKETS

Once a year, CRC holds a massive holiday distribution of food, clothing, toys, and other items for low income families coming from all over San Diego, many of them referred by other social service agencies. Holiday Baskets is the largest distribution program of its kind in San Diego County and provides a dignified and free “shopping experience” for families who might otherwise receive nothing for the holidays.

The impact is measurable:

The December 2015 Holiday Baskets event distributed food and goods to 1,672 families in need. This equates to 7,693 individuals, including 3,409 children. The value of the food and goods distributed, most of which was donated by the community, was worth thousands.

Perhaps more impressively, Holiday Baskets is completely volunteer-led and staffed. As many as 1,435 volunteers invest over 4,305 hours annually – packing thousands of boxes of food, leading toy, food, and clothing drives, organizing deliveries, setting up and dismantling the venue, organizing inventory, repairing bikes, serving clients at the event itself, and so much more.

With CRC staff providing logistical and social service support, this event enables community members with a passion for service to make a real difference in their community, and in many cases, to teach their children the value of volunteering.

ERIN’S STORY

“It meant everything to have a Christmas for my family.”

Before coming to Community Resource Center, Erin Martinez was feeling “stuck” in her situation and wanted a better future for her family. At the time, she was temporarily living with her daughter in her mother’s home and receiving welfare. She found out about CRC’s Back to Work career training program and enrolled.

After graduating the program and meeting with a CRC case manager, Erin soon found a job as an office assistant and a home of her own for her family through a transitional Section 8 program. She says, “CRC got me started, taught me basic skills and got me into a professional mentality.”

Today, Erin and her husband are both working full time and were recently able to transition off Section 8 housing. They are now paying their rent fully on their own and getting by, but with the high cost of rent in San Diego, they are unable to afford anything beyond necessities. Erin says, “The holidays get rough. CRC really helps those who need it.”

With the generous support of donors, the Martinez family was able to experience a more joyful Christmas last year as participants in Holiday Baskets. Thank you to the community for making this possible.
FINANCIALS

The Impact of Your Investment in Community Resource Center

Your donations of time, talent and treasure make this important work possible. In Fiscal Year 2015-2016 (July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2016), CRC’s hundreds of volunteers contributed over 23,368 hours to our programs, equating to $644,725 in total investment. Generous community members also gave over $2.7 million in in-kind donations.

That means that every dollar invested in CRC’s work was returned to the community at a ratio of 2 to 1!

Making CRC Stronger

OUR VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers Make CRC Stronger!

Volunteers make a huge difference in helping Community Resource Center further its mission. Volunteers are one of our most important resources.

Our volunteers help at CRC’s food distribution center and resale stores, assist our staff at CRC events, host donation drives and fundraisers and help the marketing and development team with various projects. Volunteer skills and experience make it possible for CRC to provide programs to end hunger, homelessness and domestic violence.

In Fiscal Year 2015 to 2016, over 23,368 hours were donated by over 1,780 volunteers. This time is valued at over hundreds of thousands of dollars. This donation of time and talent make it possible for us to help thousands each year in our community! We couldn’t do this work without our volunteers …

THANK YOU to our cadre of current volunteers for all that you do to support Community Resource Center’s mission. Your consistent commitment is critical to the success of our programs which assist thousands of community members in creating paths to safety, stability and self-sufficiency.

Fiscal Year Impact:

- 23,368 hours donated
- 1,780 + volunteers
- $644,725 + in value contributed

"I became a social worker because of a desire to serve others. At CRC, I am inspired by the life stories and accomplishments of the seniors and persons with disabilities I assess for services."

- David, Social Services Volunteer

"My mom and I volunteer at CRC because we value giving back to our community and making a difference for those in need."

- Laura & Olivia, Food Distribution Center Volunteers

A group of volunteers called the Newcomers help turn houses into homes by providing makeovers for families impacted by domestic violence that move into our shelter or move out and into transitional housing. The volunteers prepare the new home for arrival, purchasing furniture, decorating and making the space welcoming and beautiful.
